Right Arm Paralyzed!

Saved from St. Vitus Dance.

"Our daughter, Blanche, now fifteen years of age, had been terribly afflicted with nervousness, and had lost the entire use of her right arm. We feared St. Vitus dance, and tried the best physicians, with no benefit. She has taken three bottles of Dr. Miles' Nervine and has gained 31 pounds. Her nervousness and symptoms of St. Vitus dance are entirely gone, she attends school regularly, and has recovered complete use of her arm, her appetite is splendid."

BULL SITUATION ON WALL STREET.

Factors That Favor the "Bulls" Against the "Bears"—Feeling of Dis-trust Against American Securities in London Abating—Gradual Recovery Looked for, but no Boom Anticipated.

Special Correspondence of the Intelligence.

New York, Oct. 6.—During the past week, Wall street has shown no features of interest. Speculation continues to centre largely in the industrials, being encouraged by the unsettled condition or the finances of certain of the trusts, while railroad shares have been comparatively neglected. The class of large operators remain comparatively passive, and show no objection to the "bears" disporting themselves in making pretty raids; first because their attacks make little impression, and next because any fall in prices they may effect only affords an opportunity for advantageous buying, which the "bulls" seem quite ready to turn to account.

Although there is at present nothing out of which to make a really active market, yet in certain important respects the position amounts to a "bull" situation. For, although the business of the railroads has not yet returned to its usual volume, yet it is still recovering, and there is a large volume of freight in prospect for the coming months, and the range of prices is low enough to amply set off the current relatively low earnings. Besides, the amount of floating stock on the market is very exceptionally light. This is re-marked by the banks, who are receiving an unusually large proportion of bonds in their collateral (perhaps as a set off against rattle-trap industrials), and a much smaller ratio of railroad stocks. The same fact is apparent from the difficulty experienced by the "bears" in borrowing stocks and the frequent squeezes to which they are submitted. This security is naturally an element of strength; and still more so is the extraordinary facility with which money can be borrowed on time. Moreover, there is nothing in sight to suggest an early change from this abundance of money. These factors favor the "bulls" as against the "bears"; and it would not be surprising if the latter soon changed sides, so as to produce a range of prices on which they could sell to better purpose.

Pending the dullness of the local market, there is more than usual interest in the disposition shown towards our securities at the foreign centres. Abroad, the excessive ease in money is encouraging speculative transactions, and prices, though already high for the better class of investments, are steadily rising. In London, the speculative spirit is encouraging the launching of new corporate undertakings. The amount of new "capital applications" averages over £1,000,000 per week, and for the first nine months of the year aggregated close upon £50,000,000, against £33,000,000 for the same months of 1893. This, it is true, is much below the usual rate of new London issues; but it shows quite a distinct revival of enterprise and investment. The home trade of England also exhibits a reviving tone, with a strengthening tendency in prices. The marked recovery of confidence throughout Europe in the maintenance of pacific international policies seems to be somewhat checked by the reported serious condition of the Czar's health, but it is not easy to see why that should rather than bonds. New World investments than otherwise.

Judging from the tone of the London press, the feeling of distrust towards American securities, occasioned by the current numerous railroad receiverships, has begun to abate. There is more disposition to buy our securities, but transactions show a preference for the better class of stocks and for bonds. As the traffic of our roads improves and our general trade recovers, this movement may easily extend to the more active shares and become the basis of something like the former speculative movement between New York and London. The present unsettled condition of politics in this country no doubt has some effect upon those of our investments which rank below the position of absolute security; but the history of our legislation affords so many evidences of a common-sense result coming out of erratic fermentations of public opinion, that London financiers should know how to take our present surface currents of political sentiment at their true value.

The recovery of trade following the passage of the tariff act appears to have exhausted its first effects on Wall street. The two months of active distribution of merchandise has sufficed to meet the immediate wants of the retail trade, and there is consequently a curtailment of the demand at wholesale and an interval of waiting until the usual second demand for replenishing stocks appears. There appears, however, to be no real reason for doubting that this second half of the season will prove reasonably satisfactory. The retailers themselves were the best judges of what amount of goods they could dispose of, and it is reasonable to suppose that, liberal though their purchases have been, they have taken no more than their customers will want during the first and more active half of the season, and, assuming that, it may be allowable to hope for a fair renewal of demand during the later period of the season. Wholesale dealers, however, are making conservative estimates upon this late demand, and are pursuing a tentative course in their contracts with the manufacturers. They are likely to follow a like policy in respect to orders for the next season's business, which is no more than would be dictated by sound business policy. Indeed, there is nowhere any disposition to discount the future from the standpoint of sanguine expectations. A continued gradual recovery of business through 1895 is counted upon, but no early "boom" is generally anticipated. The imports of merchandise show a large increase, being for the last week of September $10,200,000, against $9,200,000 for the same time in 1893. This may be regarded as partly the effect of the revival of business and partly a reaction from the holding back of goods in anticipation of the new duties. The movement is, therefore, not to be regarded as any way excessive.

THE WOOL TRADE.

Trade continues sluggish for all descriptions of fleece wools, and to effect sales at present low prices would have to be accepted. Dealers are generally asking 10c to 20c for XX and above Ohio, but to sell, considerable concessions would have to be made. At 18c it would be hard to place any lines, and some lots could be bought at this price although this figure is too low to quote for the best wools. Dolomite fleeces are dull and weak. These wools come in close competition with Australians, and manufacturers at present appear to be all taken up with the latter. The London market is firm and higher for the best wools. Last report quoted American purchases to date 8,000 bales. Territory wools are moving steadily and at fair prices, they meeting with less competition from abroad as yet. Carpet wools are steady, with a moderate trade.

Wilson's Campaign.

Pittsburgh Dispatch (Ind.).

There was, at one time, a suspicion that Mr. Wilson, of West Virginia, did not care especially whether he was elected or not. It was easily imaginable that he was disgusted with his experience in tariff reforming; but a congressional candidate who opens his campaign before the Cobden Club is not taking exactly the course that a man would adopt to make sure of success in a disputed district.

But it seems that the administration has been aroused to the perception that to let Mr. Wilson go by default would be to accept an extremely black eye for himself. At all events the Democratic campaign is to be opened with eclat this week and pushed with vigor. Mr. Wilson, revived and confirmed in his tariff views by his contact with the English school, will commence stamping his district to-morrow. The extraordinary step of appealing to the West Virginia love of a show will be taken by putting the President on exhibition as one of the standard accompaniments to the circus, while other eminent orators will aid Mr. Wilson in doing the snake charming act and subduing the serpent of opposition. A month of this is hoped to bring the Second West Virginia district into line, and save Mr. Wilson for the administration.

There is certainly a claim in natural justice that the administration managers should be allowed to that extent to rival the young doctor who had lost mother and child, but hoped to "save the old man." Nevertheless, there are signs that voters are obstinate this year. If Mr. Wilson should be left on the dump of this fall's elections, it could not be claimed that it was because the Democrats were taken unawares.

Specimen Cases.

S. H. Clifford, New Cassel, Wis., was troubled with Neuralgia and Rheumatism, his Stomach was disordered, his Liver was affected to an alarming degree, appetite fell away, and he was terribly reduced in flesh and strength. Three bottles of Electric Bitters cured him.

Edward Shepherd, Harrisburg, Ill., had a running sore on his leg of eight years' standing. Used three bottles of Electric Bitters and seven boxes of Bucklen's Arnica Salve, and his leg is sound and well. John Speaker, Catawba, Ohio, had five large Fever sores on his face, doctors said he was incurable. One bottle Electric Bitters and one box Bucklen's Arnica Salve cured him entirely. Sold by Logan Drug Co.

There is no medicine so often needed in every home and so admirably adapted to the purposes for which it is intended, as Chamberlain's Pain Balm. Hardly a week passes but some member of the family has need of it. A toothache or headache may be cured by it. A touch of rheumatism or neuralgia quieted. The severe pain of a burn or scald promptly relieved and the sore healed in much less time than when medicine has to be sent for. A sprain may be promptly treated before inflammation sets in, which insures a cure in about one-third of the time otherwise required. Cuts and bruises should receive immediate treatment before the parts become swollen, which can only be done when Pain Balm is kept at hand. A sore throat may be cured before it becomes serious. A troublesome corn may be removed by applying it twice a day for a week or two. A lame back may be cured and several days of valuable time saved or a pain in the side or chest relieved without paying a doctor bill. Procure a 50 cent bottle at once and you will never regret it.

Bucklen's Arnica Salve.

The best salve in the world for cuts, bruises, sores, ulcers, salt rheum, fever sores, tetter, chapped hands, chilblains, corns, and all skin eruptions, and positively cures piles, or no pay required. It is guaranteed to give perfect satisfaction or money refunded. Price 25 cents per box. For sale by Logan Drug Company.

JOHNSON'S MAGNETIC OIL, horse brand, is a powerful liniment especially prepared for external use for persons and all diseases of horses and cattle. 1.00 size 50 cts, 50 cts. size 25 cts. Charles K. Goetzke and W. W. Irwin.

Every mother should know that croup can be prevented. The first symptom of true croup is hoarseness. This is followed by a peculiar rough cough. If Chamberlain's Cough Remedy is given freely as soon as the child becomes hoarse or even after the cough has developed it will prevent the attack. 25 and 50 cent bottles for sale by Chas. K. Goetzke, Will W. Irwin, Chris. E. Schenck, Chas. Menckemoller, Wm. E. Williams, S. L. Brice, A. E. Scheele, Will Menckemoller, John Coleman, Richards & McElroy, W. H. Hague, Wheeling; Bowie & Co., Bridgeport, and B. F. Peabody & Son, Benwood.

"Trust Those Who Have Tried."

Catarrh caused hoarseness and difficulty in speaking. I also to a great extent lost hearing. By the use of Ely's Cream Balm dropping of mucus has ceased, voice and hearing have greatly improved.—J. W. Davidson, attorney at law, Monmouth, Ill.

I used Ely's Cream Balm for catarrh and have received great benefit. I believe it a safe and certain cure. Very pleasant to take.—William Frazor, Rochester, N. Y.

Price of Cream Balm is fifty cents.

If the Baby is Cutting Teeth,

Be sure and use that old and well-tried remedy, Mrs. Winslow's Soothing Syrup for children teething. It soothes the child, softens the gums, allays all pain, cures wind colic and is the best remedy for diarrhoea. Twenty-five cents a bottle.

FINANCE AND TRADE.

The Features of the Money and Stock Markets.

New York, Oct. 6.—Money on call easy at 1 per cent all day. Prime mercantile paper 3 1/2 per cent. Sterling exchange firm, with actual balances in bankers' bills at $4 85/16; 57 for demand. Bar silver 63 1/2; Mexico do 51 1/2; silver certificates 67 1/2 bid. The total sales of stocks today were 68,223 shares.

The stock market was strong to-day during the two hours of business and prices advanced steadily on a small volume of business. The buying was largely for the short account, the bears having apparently concluded that in the present temper of speculation it was the part of wisdom to keep their lines well in the order Sunday. The features of the trading were Chicago Gas, Reading and Western Union. Reports touching the favorable effect of the contract with the Chicago Gas Company, and the Chicago Gas were used by the bull clique in the stock to move it up, and an advance of 1 1/2 per cent was made, of which only 1/4 per cent had been loaned. The Reading and Western Union were good buyers of Reading for the purpose of voting at the annual election in January, the stock having to be held for three months before the election. On the week the changes are pretty evenly divided, the most important being the Chicago Gas, which is up 1 1/2 per cent. The bond market was firm to-day and fairly active, the total transactions being $600,000. The Reading and Western Union were good buyers of Reading for the purpose of voting at the annual election in January, the stock having to be held for three months before the election. On the week the changes are pretty evenly divided, the most important being the Chicago Gas, which is up 1 1/2 per cent. The bond market was firm to-day and fairly active, the total transactions being $600,000. The buying was largely for the short account, the bears having apparently concluded that in the present temper of speculation it was the part of wisdom to keep their lines well in the order Sunday. The features of the trading were Chicago Gas, Reading and Western Union. Reports touching the favorable effect of the contract with the Chicago Gas Company, and the Chicago Gas were used by the bull clique in the stock to move it up, and an advance of 1 1/2 per cent was made, of which only 1/4 per cent had been loaned.
